

Course Syllabus

French: One-Year Master Degree Thesis 15 Credits*, Second Cycle Level 1

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course the students should be able to:

- demonstrate in-depth theoretical and methodological knowledge in a linguistic or literature area in the subject of French and the ability to reflect in an epistemological manner
- demonstrate an understanding of the area's current research issues
- integrate knowledge and analyze, assess and deal with complex phenomena and issues from a critical review approach
- based on a problem independently search for, collect, critically evaluate and interpret and analyze relevant materials that will form the basis for a timely conducted study with high demands on theory, research links, scientific method, research ethics issues and referencing
- take on board constructive comments from both teachers and other students and by their own constructive response, critically analyze and discuss others' scientific works and to independently defend their own thesis
- express themselves nearly flawlessly, both orally and in writing in academic French with great linguistic precision.

Course Content

The student produces a written paper in nearly flawless French, which consists of a 25-30 pages (9000-12000 words) long essay from a linguistic or literary distinction. The course also includes an oral presentation where the students defends their own results and arguments as well as critically analyze other students theses.

Assessment

Examination is done by the written thesis, the defense of the thesis during an oral presentation and opposition on another thesis.

Forms of Study

Individual instruction and seminars in which students are expected to participate actively.

Grades

The Swedish grades A–F.

Prerequisites

A Bachelor Degree of 180 credits, with 90 credits in French, and 30 credits in French at second level

Subject:

French

Group of Subjects:

French

Disciplinary Domain:

Humanities, 100%

This course can be included in the following main field(s) of study:

1. French

Progression Indicator within (each) main field of study:

1. A1E

Approved:

Approved 7 April 2016

Valid from 7 April 2016